

get complete pdf at learnexams.com

HESI RN EXIT EXAM V1 2023/ HESI RN EXIT ACTUAL EXAM (HESI SCREENSHOTS) (+900
score!) (Recent 2023-2024 Exam) (HESI RN EXIT V1 Exam) All 160 Questions and Answers

HESI EXIT RN 2023 V1
learnexams

LEARNEXAMS.COM

A mother runs into the emergency department with a toddler in her arms and tells the nurse that her child got into some of the child's clothes. After ensuring the airway is patent, what action should the nurse implement first?

- A Assess child for altered sensorium.
- B Determine type of chemical exposure.
- C Obtain equipment for gastric lavage.
- D Call poison control emergency number.

learnexams

HESI

Which conditions are most likely to respond to treatment with antihistamines? (Select all that apply.)

- A Bronchitis.
- B Allergic rhinitis.
- C Otitis media.
- D Contact dermatitis.
- E Myocarditis.

learnexams

FRESH

An older client's daughter calls the home health nurse and reports that her mother has become forgetful a few days ago and is now getting worse. Which actions should the nurse take? (Select all that apply.)

- A Ask if the mother is experiencing any pain with urination.
- B Encourage increased intake of high protein foods.
- C Instruct the daughter to check her mother's temperature.
- D Review the client's current food and medication allergies.
- E Determine if the mother has recently experienced a fall.

learnexams

HESI