

HIS144 QUIZ 5

1. As the Market Revolution progressed, the northern countryside became
- more concerned about the future.
 - less isolated from what was happening elsewhere.
 - caught up in trying to quickly change their lifestyle.
 - more interested in foreign news.
 - more interested in moving to urban areas.

Question Points: 1.0 / 1.0

2. Starting with Harding, three successive Republican administrations pursued all of the following, except
- Conservative tax policies
 - High tariffs
 - The rights of labor
 - Immigration restrictions
 - An actively interventionist and regulatory economic role for the federal government

Question Points: 1.0 / 1.0

3. In the improving American economy of the 1920s,
- many Americans were still living in poverty, especially the factory workers.
 - the percentage of national wealth that went to the poorest 60 percent fell by
 - almost 13 percent during the 1920s, causing the wealthy to increase their wealth at the expense of the poor.
 - it was easier for poor farmers to rise out of poverty.
 - the wealth of the Roaring Twenties was a come-and-go phenomenon.
 - Latinos living and working in the American Southwest were gradually ascending into the middle class.

Question Points: 1.0 / 1.0

4. "The New Deal ended the Great Depression."
- True
 - False